Criminal Records and Requirements for Licensure of Pharmacy Technicians

1. I am applying for the first-time for a pharmacy technician license and I have a criminal conviction in my past. Can I still get a license?

ANSWER: Depending on the type and nature of the conviction, most likely yes if you are otherwise qualified. An applicant’s convictions, along with other factors, may be considered by the Department in its decision whether to grant a license. For the past several years, more than 95% of applicants with a conviction who aren’t barred by law and who accurately completed the application disclosing their conviction have obtained a license.
