

Criminal Records and Requirements for Licensure of Environmental Health Practitioners

- 1. I am applying for the first-time for a license to be an environmental health practitioner and I have a criminal conviction in my past. Can I still get a license?

ANSWER: Depending on the type and nature of the conviction, most likely yes if you are otherwise qualified. An applicant's convictions, along with other factors, may be considered by the Department in its decision whether to grant a license. We encourage you to apply and fully participate in the Department's review process. Last year, for all licensed professions, 99% of applicants with a conviction who aren't barred by law and who accurately completed the application disclosing their conviction have obtained a license.

- 2. Which convictions are an automatic bar to obtaining an environmental health practitioner license?

ANSWER: There are no convictions which would result in an automatic bar to obtaining an environmental health practitioner license.

- 3. What are examples of convictions that the Department will consider when determining whether an applicant qualifies for an environmental health practitioner license? (These are NOT an automatic bar to obtaining a license, but they do need to be disclosed on your application.)

4. Which convictions will the Department NOT consider when determining whether an applicant qualifies for an environmental health practitioner license? (These convictions do need to be disclosed on your application, but they will not have a negative effect on your request for a license.)

- Cannabis possession or sale
- Traffic offenses (except driving under the influence and reckless homicide)
- Trespass
- Vandalism
- Convictions that have been expunged, sealed, vacated, or reversed by the court or a juvenile conviction/disposition. These convictions do NOT have to be disclosed to the Department. Please refer to question 5 below for more information.

5. I have a juvenile conviction in my past, or an adult conviction that has since been expunged, sealed, vacated, or reversed by the court. Should I still notify the Department of this conviction?

ANSWER: No. Individuals applying for a license should not disclose to the Department any adult convictions that have been expunged, sealed, vacated, or reversed by the court or any juvenile conviction/disposition.

6. I have a conviction in my past and have submitted my application. What can I expect next?

ANSWER: The Department may contact you to request additional information or request an informal conference to discuss your past conviction.
